THE BIG GREEN WEEK

CHALK AND THE RIVER DARENT

As part of The Big Green Week, the Parish Council Green Team and Eynsford Gardening Club are celebrating our River by running themed events

What makes the Darent special?

Every river is special, but the Darent's status as a chalk river marks it out further. Chalk streams - of which only around 200 exist - are unique to England and north-west Europe. They derive most of their flow from underground aquifers which, together with the chalk landscape, give these rivers a gentle quality with their own aesthetic and ecological characteristics.

The stable, cool, nutrient-rich waters allow an exceptionally high number of species to be supported - so much so that these habitats are sometimes described as 'England's rainforests'

More information can be found on the Darent River Preservation Society website: <https://darent-drips.org.uk>
